A hall with all conveniences the like of which Colored people have had no access to, Metropolitan Hall, 2018 E. 10th street (3rd floor). This hall was last used by the White Lodge K. P.'s. The conveniences that the white race demands and had in such a hall are now at our disposal. It is for rent to lodges, for dances and for entertainments of various kinds. The grand opening will take place September 15, 1920 at 8:00 p. m. Prof. (Broadway) Johnson and a staff of dancers will be on hand to see that no lady is overlooked; in other words, that all are entertained. Music will be furnished by Prof. Lee's famous orchestra. #### A PROGRESSIVE WOMAN.

The progress in Negro business is especially noticeable at Mrs. Stella Hubbard's, 1607 "A" E. 18th street. Bell phone Clifton 3730, the pioneer milliner of Kansas City. She is loud in her praise of the liberal patronage which she is receiving from our race. In addition to the Millinery she has seen fit to put in a beautiful line of ladies wearing apparel, gowns for every occasion from the house apron to the most elaborate evening gown, street frocks, coats, suits, separate skirts, capes, handmade sweaters and also hosiery for men, women and children. The fall display of millinery was never so beautiful and the prices are so reasonable that it pays one to visit this place before buying elsewhere.

FOOD FOR FANS.

(Delayed from last week)
(Starks.)

Those who are disposed to speak disparagingly of the old home team in comparison with the Detroit Stars, should take the trouble to remember the results of the two series played at Detroit.

First Series. . . . .
Monarchs won 3, Detroit won 1.

Second Series.

Monarchs won 3, Detroit won 2.

Here is six games out of nine won while the Monarchs were traveling. In the present series the Detroit Stars were traveling. In the present series the Detroit Stars have won two games out of the three played so far, with 3 more games to play. The mere fact that the visitors have a shade the best of the games seems to have disturbed a lot of the lukewarm admirers of the home team. If the Detroit Stars won all the remaining games to be played in the series, an improbability, they would have nothing to boast of at that.

While we are making comparisons let us also remember that the Monarchs have made a better record on the road than any other team in the league, considering the teams they have played.

Some more food for fans to feed upon is the fact that Kansas City is fast proving itself the best baseball town on the map by way of patronage. The Chicago community with its breezy inflation, must now accord to our city the palm for general attendance. The weekday crowds here are a marvel to visiting teams, while the Sunday multitudes are astounding.

The Detroit team came in last Saturday to open hostilities with the local leaguers, and some team the northerners have! These boys, after being blanked by the locals for 8 innings, managed to put over two runs in the 9th, tying the score. The Monarchs held them safe for two more extra sessions, but the Detroiters came up in the 12th and got 2 more runs, winning the game. The game was brilliant from the start. Currie pitching perfect ball, holding the visitors with his tight offerings, which they could not see. Johnson, for the visitors, was also effective. The pivotal points of fortune turned at the 9th and 12th periods, giving the score below:

Detroit Stars. . . . .
Monarchs. . . . .

Sunday's Game.

Again the men from the far north carried away the long end of the bacon before a big Sunday crowd. Gatewood, the mighty, served his fellows on the mound today, and he performed the function well. Neither side scored until the sixth inning, when the visitors bunched hits and scored 2. In the seventh they annexed the winning run. The Monarchs fell heir to the 2 runs they made in the 8th. It was noticed that the Stars won today's game on close fielding and clean hitting. The Monarchs, however, seemed to play equally jam up ball. There were evidently two good teams in the field.

The score by innings:

Detroit Stars. . . . .
Monarchs. . . . .

FOOD FOR FANS.

By Chas. A. Starks.

The Kansas City Monarchs are just about in the predicament that Alexander the Great once found himself, namely, no more worlds to conquer. Last week the local kings finished the fast Detroit Stars by beating them a well played series. Kansas City fans suffered some consternation when the visitors copped the first two games, Saturday and Sunday. Things looked kind of doubtful for our heroes, even the writer is bound to admit. But the masters came on from behind and showed the mettle of which they are made and made it the third series which they have downed the brilliant stars. So when you are draking comparison of these two teams just remember that out of fifteen games played by these aggregations the Monarchs won ten and the Detroit boys won five. The playing average between these two teams alone would be 667 per cent for the Monarchs and 333 for the Stars. The reason why that the Monarchs are not in second place is that they have played about twenty-four games than their rivals. These games have been largely on the road, and against the topnotch teams at that.

After the home boys got through with the Detroit Stars they had to look around for something to occupy their minds for a short spell. The Blues having a long session at home they could not use the old stamping ground 'till that team left for foreign parts.

So the manager of the Monarchs, seeking some nine men whom his team might devour, pounced upon the Tramways as worthy victims. The slaughter took place at the victim's own park at 31st and Indiana avenue. It was on a Sunday and the host of fans, admirers of the Monarchs, were there to see the sad rites well performed—and it was! Ad Brennan, the highly reputed pitcher of big league fame, so are they all honorable, pitched for the white aggregation—and lost. Currie flung 'em over for the black boys. The Monarchs, therefore, marched home easily to the loose tune of 9 to 1.

Monarchs Take Doubleheader.

The only variety introduced in the second day's schedule was that they had another team to offer up as a sacrifice to the mighty Kings. So the Aristos crew was brought forward. The name, you have probably noticed, is quite suggestive of something good to eat. In fact "Aristos" is the name of a patented flour. The Monarchs knowing this may well be suspected of trying to make doughnuts out of the nicely named team. So vigorously did the black boys attack the whites that it was feared that they may have had some faint intentions of practicing the Ancient Order of Cannibalism, which fictionists claim that we are the only group who ever indulged in such.

However, the game failed to reach that stage. The Monarchs simply took all the delicacies that the Aristos served and disposed of them in the way that seemed good to them. Skeets Alexander was on the mound for the flour dispensers. He, also, is one of the honorables. But he was far from being effective with the heavy hitting Monarchs. Rogan pitched for the colored boys. Of course the Aristos couldn't see the fast ones that this gent always slabs down. The result was the safe margin of 7 to 2.

Score by innings:

Aristos. . . . .
Monarchs. . . . .

Batteries—Alexander, Wise; Rogan Rodriguez.

Second Game.

Again the Tramways faced the now haughty Monarchs. This time they went down the shut-out route. Donaldson didn't fool with 'em, that is to say he did fool with 'em after he demonstrated his mastery. Chief Johnson was on the other end of the mound today, but the boys took well to all goods he offered and made it a blank for the Trams.

The Score by innings:

Aristos. . . . .
Monarchs. . . . .

Batteries—Alexander, Wise; Rogan Rodriguez.
